Public Must Accept Any Kind, Type Or Size Of Coal Available

N. A. Brand, deputy coal controller, warns meeting at Calgary of difficulties next winter. Said Mr. Brand:

"Last winter was difficult. I believe that next winter may be even more difficult.

The fact is that we got through last winter by the skin of our teeth.

"We are living in a day and age where petty prejudices and competitive situations should not exist. Where every individual connected with this industry should forget past grievances and should carry on with a full knowledge and realization of the vital importance of his task.

Mr. John Citizen should order his coal now and be prepared to accept any kind, type or size of coal that is available. There is no sense in a retail dealer who claims that his customer must have this or that kind of coal. Customers will be fortunate to get coal. Impress upon your customers that coal is coal."

The program was augmented by G. H. E. Green on the cornet, who delighted all present, as usual, with his selections; Mrs. Green accompanied him.

ACTIVITIES AT THE HOSTESS HOUSE

By E. E.
Thursday was a very jolly evening at the Hostess House when the usual weekly variety concert was held in the recreational hall for service men and their families. Sgt. Pilot R. Smith, R.A.F., was again master of ceremonies, assisted by members of the R.A.F. Those taking part in the program were entertained after the concert in the "Blue Room," where many friends of the boys came to wish them good luck and cheerio in their new work, wherever it may take them.
Members of the R.A.F. Officers' Club were very busy on Friday making novelties and children's things to be sold at the garden party to be held Wednesday, July 21, in the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Baker's home. Proceeds from the sale of work and garden party will be used for the relief of bombed out families in Britain.
It is very quiet about the Hostess House these mornings — the nursery school has closed for the summer — but remember, mother, the nursery is always open for your small people to come and play in, while you have a rest in the garden or do a little sewing on the machine in the Blue Room.
"Patch," the cottage, entertained over the weekend — and we understand two birthdays were celebrated. Whose? We wonder — a military secret — no — an Air Force one!
The R.A.F. Hostess House Club met in the lounge and "talked of many things." Plans were made for a visit to Victoria in the near future, to meet members of the R.A.F. living in the city.
Friday evening the R.A.F. Orchestra played for dancing in the recreational hall, the usual big crowd and girls from town.
Forty-one babies came to the "Well Baby" clinic this week in spite of the hot weather — so be sure to bring your babies before the nurse goes away for her holidays, another two clinics in July.
The worst has happened! — "Sparks," son of "Blitz," has been posted! Not to the navy — not to the air force — not to the infantry — but — the A.A.s. And what he doesn't know about camouflage! Well the A.A.s. can't teach him much more, for he's a wizard at that. So, good luck, Sparks, we shall miss you at the Hostess House, from the smallest clinic visitor to the fiercest S.P.

Where's John?

Nowadays, that's what many say... "Where's John?"... or "Where's Peter?"... or Bill?... or Jim? Kindly concern... as much as if John or Peter, up there on the edge of the sky, were their own son. But then all of us share the heart-felt pride that comes when a plane zooms overhead. Pride in our boys of the R.C.A.F. and the magnificent job they're doing, of their tremendous task. We're cheering for you here at home boys... carry on.

SCHOOL NOTES

War savings for June totalled $279.97. This included a Victory Bond not recorded during the May campaign and $70 worth of stamps purchased through the school for distribution as prizes on sports day.

In connection with war savings you will be visiting by a local high school girl during the next month who will ask you to purchase 25-cent War Savings Stamps. These girls will be wearing the familiar Miss Canada costumes and have volunteered their services to assist in the "Depth Charge" campaign to blitz the submarines.

A depth charge costs $90. Each girl has set herself an objective of one depth charge or $90. Welcome her when she calls. In the meantime be dropping those 25-cent pieces in the sugar bowl (there is nothing else you can put in it now anyway) and have a few dollars ready for the girls.

By the way, if you buy a few dollars worth you might even get a sticker on which you are entitled to write your name. Then, when the navy lads have sighted a nice juicy submarine, plank goes your sticker on the side of the charge with your name bearing compliments to Hitler & Co. What chance has a sub then? And all for $90, part of which you have provided. You get it all back, too, plus interest. So — Welcome the Miss Canadas! Buy stamps liberally!

The girls are Violet Yeoman, Valerie Hamilton, Sheila Dignan, Betty McKenzie, Beatrice Brethour, Agnes Knutsen, Grace Mears, June Newling, and

PRESENTATION TO MR. RAMSAY

On Thursday night last the teachers of the district held their last meeting of the year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. West.

During the evening, D. E. Breckenridge, on behalf of those present, presented James Ramsay, retiring principal of Sidney School, with a smoking jacket and expressed the wish that the recipient would soon recover from the indisposition that had forced him to withdraw from active teaching duties and that he would then have many long, happy years of retirement.

In reply Mr. Ramsay pointed out that he had been associated with the teaching profession for 49 years, 29 of these were spent in schools in the British Isles and 20 in British Columbia schools. He had taught under five British sovereigns.

Poultry Notes

by

A. SANSBURY,

Poultryman,

Experimental Station,

Saanichton, B.C.

LEUCOSIS

In recent years fowl Leukemia has been recognized as a fowl leucosis. It is a disease of increasing importance. It has been the cause of heavy mortality and usually affects birds nearing maturity or during the first laying year.

Symptoms: Affected fowls first become depressed and inactive, lose their appetite and there is a loss of weight. Birds that linger become wasted in flesh. Treatment for Leucosis cannot be suggested. Removing birds that show evidence of poor health is a sound practice. There is evidence that some strains are more susceptible to this disease.

INTERNAL PARASITES

Worm infestation among flocks of poultry is due primarily to the fact that the ground around the poultry plant gradually becomes contaminated through neglect to rotate run areas.

Symptoms: Birds do not grow or mature properly; they are thin and poor in flesh, digestive disturbances are indicated by diarrhoea and leg weakness may occur.

Treatment: There are so many kinds of worms in poultry that it would be advisable to get in touch with the Health of Animals Branch, Saanichton, for advice on treatment.

EXTERNAL PARASITES

Body lice. Treatment, nicotine sulphate (Black Leaf 40) has been proven very effective and does not require that the birds be handled individually. It is applied to the roosts just before roosting time, at the rate of about eight ounces to 100 feet of roosting place. It should be repeated in 10 days' time.

RED MITES

Treatment must be applied to the roosts and their supports. Products sold under different trade names are very efficient as sprays. A cheap and fairly good remedy, if applied weekly, is a mixture of spent crank-case oil and kerosene.
